

THE WAR CRY

MRS BOOTH

AMERICA'S ATTITUDE

Standing at attention and awaiting orders!

At a Council of War,
under the Presidency of General & Mrs Booth held Aug. 31st, Miss Eva Booth, Commander of The Army's Forces
in America, sent a message to the Council, stating that

IS CANADA'S

"The Army in America felt it had in the New General, the man
it wanted." She concluded: "They are now standing at attention, waiting to obey orders."

That is Canada's Attitude: We salute our New General and await orders.

For The Army marriage service, remarked with womanly deftness. "The Chief has said something about his bashfulness on our wedding day, but fell in great trembling and overwrought, by unknown responsibilities. But I trusted in the mercy of God, and (and this with a side look and a smile at Mr. Bramwell Booth)." "Mr. W. T. Stead, Mr. Bramwell Booth have experienced great blessing and joy, as they themselves declare, and now in the midst of further responsibilities they face the future with the courage and hope derived from their strong trust in the Mercy and Wisdom of God.

Salvationist Kitchener.

Gifted Reformer and Organizer
"Who Stood in the Dock Beside Mr. W. T. Stead."

(From Lloyds Weekly News.)

From the day Mr. Bramwell Booth went down to Whitechapel in 1874 to assist his father in the office he has not been away, officially, from the side of The General. He has acted as his amanuensis, printer, editor, financial chief organizer, principal of Salvation theology, and for the last three decades as Chief of the Staff, or second in command.

When the late General went on his last journey, he left the whole Army in his son's hands, giving him the necessary power of attorney. Not once did he disappoint the General.

In one sense he inherits the position. He was named by his father as his patron saint, the Rev. William Bramwell, noted for piety among the Wesleyan Methodists of one hundred years ago. His career has been synonymous with the evolution of The Salvation Army. The father was the Bismarck of the son the Von Moltke of the movement. The General of The Salvation Army planned his Utopia for the submerged, but without the organizing genius of his Chief of the Staff that scheme might have proved a dismal failure. His hand has moulded the social scheme of the Army more than his father's.

He has, like an Ezekiel, become an actor, in order to drive home his point through the imagination of the world. He has walked the streets of London, and the world dressed in sackcloth as a protest against his apathy toward God and Christ. He has warned sinners to flee from the wrath of God by preaching from a coffin.

When Mr. W. T. Stead set out on his crusade against London vice, and shocked society by publishing the "Maledictum," Mr. Bramwell Booth co-operated with Mr. Stead.

Mr. Bramwell Booth stood with his colleagues in the dock at the Old Bailey, though no more guilty of an offence, or of breaking the law in the letter or the spirit, than the judge who tried the case. He was, of course, hand-somely exonerated, and informed that he had played the part of a Christian gentleman. He would not have appeared at all, but for the negligence of one who was holding back a letter which it had been shown that the Army's part in the agitation for the raising of the age of consent was dictated purely by humanitarian aims.

Chancellor of the Exchequer.

On leaving the dock Mr. Bramwell Booth vowed that he would plant a rescue home in every large town throughout the world, and it looks as if he would live to see that determination made good. Already the Army's Rescue work is the largest of any in the world.

As a teacher he has done more than any other Officer to educate The Army. He is responsible for most of the books of regulation; he remodeled the Training Home; it is now a college. He initiated an International Staff College, where all the year round young men and women from different parts of the world spend a few months in London receiving instruction in the principles and practices of salvation and social warfare.

He has entirely reorganized the finances of The Army, is the chairman of the Army's Assurance Society, the Reliance Bank,

THE GENERAL

Replies to Messages of Condolence from Exalted Personages.

The following are the messages sent by The General to the Queen, and the Lord Mayor of London, respectively, in reply to their messages of sympathy:

"To His Majesty the King:

"Your Majesty's gracious sympathy with us and your generous reference to my dear Father's widow and his work, stay in our hearts, and will be a cheer in this hour of trial and loss to all who have loved him."

"He valued very highly the kindness shown to him by your Majesty and the Queen. That kindness is now a treasured memory to us all."

"It will be the highest purpose of our people everywhere to carry on the work he was by God's grace enabled to establish for the honour of Christ and the welfare of the poor of all nations."

"It will be the highest purpose of our people everywhere to carry on the work he was by God's grace enabled to establish for the honour of Christ and the welfare of the poor of all nations."

Warmly thank you for your recognition on behalf of the General of our beloved General's life's work for the poor and for the honour of Christ, and an deeply sensible of the General's sympathy of the city.

Colonel Mayp, read the following message in connection with the funeral service at the Mason Hall on Wednesday, August 14, 1912, at 8 p.m.:

"The Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada."

"I wish to express to all assembled at the Necropolis Services in Toronto my deep and sincere regret in the loss which The Salvation Army has suffered by the death of their venerable General. Not only The Salvation Army, but the world at large is to suffer and doubtless misery can never be forgotten. May the work begin and brought to maturity by the late General Booth may be crowned with equal success under those to whom he has delegated his command."

Lient-Governor Patterson, B.C.:

"By a life of unselfish devotion to the interests and welfare of a class seldom reached by other Christian denominations, General William Booth has erected to his memory a monument that will cause his name to be revered for ages throughout the civilized world."

Sir Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia:

"The dear General Booth is more than a National hero. He is world-wide, for the way in which he spent his noble life for the uplifting of humanity has extended to all civilized nations. While he is gone, the good he did remains, his name will ever be revered as one of the greatest benefactors of the human race. On behalf of the people of British Columbia let me voice the general sympathy and sorrow felt throughout the Pacific Province at the passing of the venerable founder of The Salvation Army."

Sir Edward Morris, Prime Minister, Newfoundland:

"The people of Newfoundland, many of whom were helped spiritually and materially by the General, the founder of The Salvation Army, join in the general sympathy in the great loss which The Salvation Army has met in his death."

Sir Ralph Williams, Governor of Newfoundland: "I deeply deplore the death of one who has done so much for the welfare of the poor and afflicted."

Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec:

"Will you kindly offer for me to the members of The Salvation Army my sincere sympathy in the loss of General Booth. I have followed the career of this good citizen with interest, and I fully appreciate how much his death will mean to those unfortunate classes of which he was such an ardent proponent."

President Borden, Ottawa:

"Mr. President. Your noble and eloquent tribute to my dear Father's life and character touches me most deeply, and will profoundly gratify our people and their friends throughout the world."

"From the midst of my great sorrow I thank you both for them and for my self. We mourn our great Leader's loss, but his grace will go forward with us."

President Borden of Alberta:

"It is not The Salvation Army alone that mourns the death of General Booth, but the whole civilized world. He lifted up the destitute, weak, and hopeless, and exalted them, spilling the individual. May the principles of this great Christian organization continue to animate the world-wide Army of workers organized by him."

THE WORLD and ITS WAYS

Handicapped—but Useful.

Helen Keller, the blind, deaf, and dumb woman, whose mastery of an education has made her famous, is considering the proposition of becoming a city official of Schenectady, N.Y. The place for which Miss Keller has been mentioned is a member of the Board of Parks. Mayor Lyon intends that his new board shall have jurisdiction over tenement conditions, children's playgrounds and numerous other matters that do not properly come under any regular department of the Schenectady city government.

Preventing Forest Fires.

The annual loss of timber due to forest fires is always a matter of serious concern to Canadians. The Government therefore is making great efforts to prevent these fires from starting by means of its fire ranging service. Since the year 1900, when the service was twenty-six years old, the Department of Lands and Forests has worked to train its rangers not only to be fire-fighters—every good bushman knows without being told what to do with a bush fire—but to be fire preventers. This is still a long way to go to be done along that line, but the campaign of education, carried on principally through the rangers, is making great strides. The settlers are becoming more careful in lighting camp fires, and tourists are learning slowly, that the best way to dispose of a half-burned match is not to throw it into a pile of dry leaves, and that it is not considered a polite action to leave fire burning for the man who may come along in a day or two or three days, covering several acres of bush.

The work of the fire-ranging branch has become an important part of the public service, a part that will require an increasing expenditure from year to year. It is difficult to say with certainty as to whether that expenditure is justified, all he needs is a call upon any of the lumbermen whose fortunes are bound up in great areas of timber land in the north, or a visit to the big forest reserves where no serious fire has been reported all summer.

Drift and Insanity.

At a recent conference in London, the alcohol problem was given much attention. Winslow, the well-known statistician, stated that investigations made by him during the last 55 years in various parts of the world convince him that lunacy is making uninterrupted progress, and that the world must be faced with the real drift and insanity.

"Among the uncivilized races insanity is practically unknown, but where competition is great and gigantic mental efforts have been made to keep up with the events, and where the world is in a state of the real drift and insanity, the increase is very real."

"The chief cause of the increase is shown in the statistics to be caused by Eng. Twenty per cent. of all lunatics in the world due to drink. Other causes are heredity and injurious marriages."

"To check mental degeneration there should be immediate legislation for the compulsory confinement of drunkards, and for the establishment of halfway houses where those suffering from acute but curable insanity could be placed instead of being incarcerated in asylums."

It may be an Empire which will ensure peace and liberty throughout the world."

The Panama Canal Question.

It is probable that Great Britain will appeal to the Hague concerning the Panama Canal Act, which it is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. There seems to be good ground for believing, however, that the United States will refuse to arbitrate the question, on the ground that the proposed arbitration would not contain sufficient Americans to serve justice for their country. The whole question hangs on the right of the United States to exempt its own vessels from tolls. A leading authority on the question is of the opinion that the American and foreign, engaged in foreign or in coasting trade should be required to pay their way through the canal and that some other means beside remitting tolls should be found to encourage American shipping.

It is estimated that the cost of maintenance and operation of the canal will be four million dollars annually. Adding to this the interest on the cost of construction, the canal will have to earn fifteen million dollars if it is to pay its way.

With reasonable tolls, Panama will get the traffic of both North and South America, and all the traffic of Australasia and Pacific Asia is concerned, it will depend on the tolls charged for if they are excessive this trade will go by way of the Suez.

More Men than Women.

The inequality in the number of sexes in Canada is very evident from the following census figures:

	Males.	Females.
Alberta	223,110	190,674
Brit. Columbia	250,000	205,558
Manitoba	250,000	217,000
New Brunswick	170,867	173,023
Newfoundland	21,319	21,319
Quebec	501,217	601,456
P. E. Island	47,000	46,030
Quebec	101,247	101,247
Saskatchewan	200,000	190,000
Toronto	5,058	2,008
Territories	8,673	8,523

Roughly speaking, Canada as a whole has 1,000 men for every 889 women. Commenting on this, the Toronto Globe says: "Such a disproportion of the sexes is not good for a poor country and for the welfare of morals. It is not good in any sense for man to live alone. The women of England, where there is an excess of over ten per cent of women over men, should be encouraged to come to Canada in large numbers."

COLONEL GASKIN

Crabrook, Corps has been greatly favoured with a visit from Colonel Gaskin and Major Green. The Colonel lectures on the Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Thompson, took the chair. The lecture was very inspiring and impressive. The Colonel, Major Green, Mrs. Gaskin and daughter, who attained the title of our friend, J. D. McBride. We had a glorious spiritual lift.

OTHER IMPORTANT INTERNATIONAL APPOINTMENTS.

that is used to drive the drivers of some great electric works in energy does not wait over the Americans to say, "he knows he will need it all, and therefore to waste any."

It is evident, too, that his wide experience of Army administration and of human nature has made him a cautious man of affairs. He does not come to destroy or distract the work done by others; on the good foundations already laid he should build. Problems would be solved easily, and after due consideration of the spot. Difficult situations would be dealt with courageously, and in keeping with Army experience.

During his stay of nearly five years in the West Indies, he has proved the strength of these assertions, and in Colonel Maidment we are sure that Canada will have a Chief Secretary who will carry on the tradition that have been their territory well known throughout The Army world.

Lieut.-Colonel Maidment.

The latest English Cry to hand contains the following write-up of Col. Maidment as well as the other important matters.

Lieut.-Colonel Sidney Maidment, who is farewelling from the West Indian Command, is appointed as Chief Secretary to Canada and Newfoundland. The Colonel received his first Commission as an Officer, who, serving in the Royal Engineers, was promoted to the rank of Captain, and then to Lieutenant-Colonel, and then to Major. Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Maidment will probably arrive in Canada in the early part of November. God bless them and give them good success.

Lieut.-Colonel Maidment.

Colonel Charles Rothwell, who has for years held the position of Candidates' Secretary at the British National Headquarters, is appointed a Territorial Commander of our forces in the West Indies. The Colonel has already been in the service for a number of years held several appointments in Australia. Loved by all who know him, and with a name that is almost a household word in Army circles, the Colonel has spent the greater part of his life in the service, and knowledge of men and affairs. Mrs. Rothwell has unfortunately been prevented from undertaking much active work for some time past by reason of her blindness, although she was a front-rank warrior for many years.

Although British born, the Colonel says he is an "Internationalist," and a glances at his family strengthens his assertion. Very recently he has been born outside Great Britain, in a different country.

Violet, the eldest, was born in Denmark; Corry, the second girl, in Holland; Brunwell in South Africa; Herbert in the Argentine Republic; and Gladys, the youngest girl, in Norway. Truly a family of internationalists.

Few, if any, Salvation Army families, are more cosmopolitan than the family of the Maidments—children having been born to them in most of the countries in which the Colonel and his wife have fought. It is of interest to note that Captain Mrs. Maidment, before her marriage was known as Captain Pookham, was Lieutenant as a Field Officer in Denmark by a young Officer who is now Mrs. Colonel Pookham.

Of the Colonel and Mrs. Maidment personally much might be said, but in this article there is only room for a few impressions. Mrs. Maidment is a typical Salvationist, possessing a fiery spirit, a great love for souls, and an almost regardless of the limits of sacrifice.

The appointment to which the Colonel is now proceeding will only be the second he has had for more than twenty years that has not carried with it the necessity to learn a new language.

The Lt.-Colonel has seen something like twenty-four years' service.

The following personal sketch of Lieut.-Colonel Maidment was written by an Officer who was until recently attached to the West Indian Headquarters, and sent to us by Staff-Capt. Shaw.

Colonel and Mrs. Maidment had a varied career in The Army. They have done 22 years of evangelistic service, and with a fair fresh complexion, he might pass for a descendant of one of the old Vikings. Calm and deliberate in speaking, there is with him a suggestion of abundant reserve power—strength derived from a spiritual source and water over the carbuncles of his concupiscence and conciliation, as is the mainstream which turns the wheel, or the deep channel

Lieut.-Colonel Maidment.

Although none the less a Salvationist, the Colonel is cast in a different mould altogether. Fair-skinned, he shouldered with a manly strength, he might pass for a descendant of one of the old Vikings. Calm and deliberate in speaking, there is with him a suggestion of abundant

Salvation Songs.

HOLINESS.

Tunes.—Come, Comrades, Dear, 136; Song-Book, 388.
O glorious hope of perfect love!
It lifts me up to things above,
It bears on eagles' wings;
It gives my ravished soul a taste,
And makes me for some moments faint.

With Jesus' priests and kings.

Rejoicing now in earnest hope,
I stand, and from the mountain-top,
See all the land below;
Rivers of milk and honey rise,
And all the fruits of paradise
In endless plenty grow.

Now, O my Jesus, bring me in!
Cast out Thy foes, the inbred sin,

The carnal mind, remove;
The purchase of Thy death divide!

Give me, with all the sanctified,
The heritage of love!

Tunes.—They Will Be Done, 48; Song-Book, 5.

2 When I survey the wondrous Cross
On which the Prince of Glory died.

My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast,

Save in the death of Christ, my God;
All the vain things that charm me most,

I sacrifice them to His Blood.

See, from His head, His hands, His feet,

Sorrow and love flow mingled down;

Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,

Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

FREE AND EASY.

Tunes.—Anything for Jesus, 200; Song-Book, 447.

3 Jesus, precious Saviour, Thou hast saved my soul,

From sin's foul corruption made me fully whole;

Every hour I'll serve Thee, whate'er may befall,

Till in Heaven I crown Thee King and Lord of all.

Chorus:

All my heart I give Thee, day by day,
comes what may;
All my life I give Thee, dying men to save.

In the toils and conflicts faithful
I will be,

All things I will gladly bear,
they'll be good for me;

Be a saviour of mankind,
slaves of sin to bring,

Give me holy courage, mighty, mighty King.

Tune.—"Fighting On."

4 To the war! to the war! loud
and long sounds the cry;

To the war! every soldier who fears not to die.

See the millions who are drifting to Hell's endless woo.

Oh, who in the name of Jehovah

will go?

Chorus:

Fighting on, etc.

To the war! to the war! Who'll
the war-cry obey?

'Tis the great God who calls you

Chorus:

Whosoever will any come,

And this word it reaches nations,

Not the rich, or learned, or clever.

Only shall by Him be rescued,
Oh, praise God! it's "whosoever."

For the poor and broken-hearted
There's a hope, and they need never

Have a fear about their coming.

For the Book says, "whosoever ever."

FAREWELL OF Col. & Mrs. Mapp

LIEUT.-COLONEL PUGMIRE AND THE DIVISIONAL COM-MANDERS WILL TAKE PART AT THE VARIOUS POINTS.

London, Monday Sept. 23. Montreal, Tuesday Oct. 8. Hamilton, Thursday Oct. 10

AN OFFICERS MEETING AND PUBLIC UNITED
FAREWELL WILL TAKE PLACE IN THE NO. I CITADEL AT EACH PLACE.

To fight while 'tis day;
Though the battle be fierce, and
though mighty the foe,
The Salvation Army to victory must go.

To the war! to the war! louder
rings out the cry;
Who'll enlist in this Army all Hell to defy? In this Army all bright angels await glittering crowns to bestow.

Oh, who in the name of Jehovah
will go?

SALVATION.

Tunes.—Whosoever Will May

Come, 294; Song-Book, 865.

5 All have need of God's salvation.

If with Him they'd live for ever!

But a promise He has given,

Ensign Penfold and Captain Harrington, of the Immigration Department branches at Halifax and Quebec, respectively, were visited on Saturday last week, and transacted business with Brigadier Burdett before he left for the West.
